Ten in the Bed: Math Meets Music in Early Childhood

Description: The purpose of this workshop is to show how a combination of classic and original children's songs can be used to enable young children to begin developing their mathematical knowledge and skills. Music instantly engages children's senses; pairing the sensory mode of learning with a mathematical element activates connections in the brain. Teachers can extend children's learning even further by getting their hands busy with manipulatives or bridging math-music experiences to complimentary examples of children's literature. Activities in art and dramatic play also offer opportunities for cross-curricular learning to occur, affirming the active process of math education. Join us for a fun, participatory session where you will learn by doing and become a "musical math teacher".

Audience: PreK Teachers

Theme: Engaging Students – Improving Professional Practice

Presenter(s): Robert Messano, WP Clinical Supervisor

Time: 4:00pm - 6:00pm

Modality: In Person @ WP

Tuesday, February 25, 2025

Social Emotional Learning: Why Does It Matter?

Description: Each day, our students need to be "present" in class in order to learn and thrive. But how often do we have an entire classroom filled with students who are calm, eager, and ready to work? With researched-based mindful strategies and quick, easy-to-implement social and emotional learning activities, educators can help students navigate their social and emotional challenges to make sure that they remain present each day.

Audience: PreK Teachers, K-5 Teachers, 6-8 Teachers, 9-12 Teachers, School Administration, Academic Support Staff

Theme: Engaging Students – Improving Professional Practice

Presenter(s): Rebecca Cecala, Principal, Paterson Public Schools

Time: 4:00pm - 6:00pm

Modality: In Person @WP

Successful Strategies for Modifying Games in Physical Education

Description: Students learn several games and physical activities during physical education class. Many of these games can become repetitive and as a result, stagnant over time. What if there was a way to take virtually any activity and modify it so that it feels brand new and exciting. This workshop will equip each attendee with several examples of well known activities and providing changes to create new and often times, improved versions of the existing game. The goal is to keep students actively engaged while experiencing variations of games they already know.

Audience: PreK Teachers, K-5 Teachers, 6-8 Teachers, 9-12 Teachers

Theme: Engaging Students – Improving Professional Practice

Presenter(s): Jason Hernandez, Physical Education Teacher, North Bergen School District

Time: 4:00pm - 6:00pm

Modality: Virtual via Zoom

Tuesday, March 4, 2025

Strategies for Vocabulary Acquisition in the Classroom

Description: This workshop will focus on the steps learners take in order to acquire new vocabulary, strategies that can be utilized in all classrooms, and how students can be given accountability over their learning of new words.

Audience: K-5 Teachers, 6-8 Teachers, Academic Support Staff

Theme: Engaging Students – Improving Professional Practice

Presenter(s): Jonathan Raditch, Teacher and Reading Specialist, Paterson Public Schools

Time: 4:15pm - 6:15pm

Modality: Virtual via Zoom

Thursday, March 6, 2025

Using DIBELS to Increase Reading Fluency

Description: Now that you've given the DIBELS assessment, what can you do with the data you've collected? Let's use some of the FREE materials offered through DIBELS to build oral reading fluency effectively and efficiently. We will also take a look at common high frequency words and the importance of preloading your students' reading skills with them, so they can quickly tackle them in a timed reading assessment. Remember, reading accurately and fluently helps build comprehension in the long run.

Audience: K-5 Teachers, 6-8 Teachers

Theme: Personalizing Learning - Meeting the Needs of Every Learner

Presenter(s): Jacqueline Bounouk, Teacher, Paterson Public Schools

Time: 1:00pm - 3:00pm
