Department of Computer Science Awarded Prestigious ABET/CAC Accreditation

The Computing Accreditation Commission (CAC) of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET) has determined that William Paterson University's bachelor of science program in computer science meets the high, national standards set by the profession. Accreditation helps students know they are choosing a quality program, enables employers and graduate schools to recruit graduates who are well-prepared, and facilitates the screening of applicants by registration, licensure, and certification boards.

The Department of Computer Science offers, in addition to its national accreditation, many additional reasons to pursue study in the discipline:

- up-to-date curriculum
- maximum class size, twenty students
- dedicated, experienced faculty
- state-of-the-art technology
- internship opportunities
- special project and research opportunities
- successful placement record
- on-campus work opportunities
- UPE international honor society
