MEMORANDUM

TO: Personnel and Compensation Committee
FROM: Robert Seal, Chief of Staff to the President and Board of Trustees
RE: Executive Summary – Personnel Actions
DATE: April 5, 2019

Included for Committee review are the following personnel actions:

Tenure Upon Hire for Joshua Powers

In 2014, New Jersey statute was changed to allow for tenure upon hire for faculty and administrators who have previously achieved tenure at a regionally-accredited four-year institution of higher education. The number of such hires with tenure is limited by law to 15% of the total number of new, full-time, tenure-track faculty hired at the institution in the prior academic year, or one faculty member, whichever is greater.

The President has approved the award of tenure upon hire for incoming Provost and Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs Joshua Powers. Dr. Powers will have a concurrent faculty appointment as Professor of Educational Leadership in the College of Education. He begins his position on July 8, 2019.

Tenure by Exceptional Action for Professor Meredith Drew, Professor Lauren Fowler-Calisto, Associate Provost Sandra Hill, and Dean Venkat Sharma

The administration is recommending that Professor Meredith Drew, Department of Special Education and Counseling, and Professor Lauren Fowler-Calisto, Department of Music, be awarded tenure by exceptional action. Professor Drew is completing her fourth year at the University and held tenure at her previous institution. Professor Fowler-Calisto is completing her third year at the University and held tenure at her previous institution. Both Dr. Drew and Dr. Fowler-Calisto have established an excellent record of teaching, research, and service at WPU. With this tenure award, both will be promoted from assistant to associate professor.

Sandra Hill has served as Associate Provost since July 2017 and Venkat Sharma has served as Dean of the College of Science and Health since July 2017 and both are recommended for tenure by exceptional action. Dr. Hill's credentials have been reviewed by the English Department, and Dr. Sharma's credentials have been reviewed by the Biology Department, and both are recommended for tenure because of their established record of teaching, research, and scholarship. Both Sandra and Venkat held tenure at their previous institutions.

The Provost recommends these actions and the President has approved awarding tenure by exceptional action after two years of service, as permitted by New Jersey statute.

Faculty and Librarian 1st and 2nd Year Reappointments

Tenure-track faculty and librarians are appointed on a yearly basis. Those in their first and second year of service are reviewed in early spring for reappointment the following September. This year, 33 first and second year faculty and two librarians are recommended for reappointment.

Professional Staff Reappointments

Professional staff in the AFT bargaining unit are appointed on a yearly basis until they qualify for multi-year reappointments. Twenty-five professional staff in their first and second year of service are recommended for reappointment.

Professional staff in the AFT bargaining unit qualify for multi-year appointments after being successfully reappointed each year for five years. This year, 18 professional staff are recommended for multi-year reappointments for four or five years, depending on length of service.

Part-time Faculty and Percent of Time Non-Teaching Professional Staff Reappointments

Part-time faculty and part-time professional staff are reappointed yearly based on institutional need. Seven part-time faculty and five part-time professional staff are recommended for reappointment.

Faculty Promotions

Tenured faculty seeking promotion go through a competitive process that includes a portfolio review at the department and university level, culminating with review by the President. This year, five faculty are recommended for promotion from the assistant to associate professor level, and 21 faculty are recommended for promotion from the associate to full professor level.

Three faculty members are being promoted from assistant to associate professor as “legacy” promotions. In 2017, the University and AFT agreed to a new policy whereby any faculty member being granted tenure would automatically be promoted to associate professor. There were nine faculty awarded tenure prior to the 2017 agreement who are still at the assistant professor level. To address the inequity and after review of their credentials, three assistant professors (Karen Decker, Special Education and Counseling; Kristen Victorino, Communication Disorders and Sciences; and Cheryl Hollema, Nursing) are being recommended for promotion to associate professor.

Faculty and Librarian Range Adjustments and Performance Based Promotions for Professional Staff

Aside from promotion, tenured faculty may seek a financial increase to their salary by engaging in a competitive process for a range adjustment. The University determines the number of range adjustments available on a yearly basis. Portfolios are reviewed by a university-wide faculty committee, the Provost, and the President. This year, five faculty are recommended for range adjustments.

A similar salary increase and promotion process is available to professional staff in the AFT bargaining unit, based on a university-determined number and following a similar portfolio review. This year, five professional staff are recommended for performance-based promotions.
